EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with William Haeffliger (reg #17,120) on 7/19/06.

The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 18, in line 10, the words "during at least a one month period, progressively" were inserted after "c)".

Further in claim 18, in line 16, the words "during at least a one month period, progressively" were inserted after the phrase "lower levels".

Claim 21 has been canceled.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art does not teach progressively changing the amounts of the ingredients over a time period, they merely teach having different ingredients for different conditions.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3629

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. US PAT 6,493,641 to Singh et al. teaches making pet food with a different composition for differing weather conditions but does not teach progressively changing the recipe as the weather changes, Japanese patent JP 2003-288482 (note: all teachings are taken from the English-language abstract as provided) teaches differing recipes according to climate but does not teach progressively changing the recipe as the weather changes, "New 2-Step Program Helps Pudgy Pups Attain and Maintain Healthy Weight" by PR Newswire Association, Inc. discloses differing formulae for pet food at different times of the year but does not teach progressively changing the recipe as the weather changes.
